Senior Product Manager

Responsibilities

You will be responsible for existing mapping connectivity between users, handling Privacy settings, defining a best-in-class Search product, and ultimately driving the future of Venmo's Feed. You will work with our Data Infrastructure and Data Science teams and a front-end client team to design both back and front-end experiences to improve Venmo's social landscape.

You will also work closely with other Product Managers, manage request intake and feature scoping, and participate in agile ceremonies to drive the execution and launch of new features. You will be the point person for your domain, balancing customer desires, business requirements, legal/compliance, growth and monetization considerations.

Qualifications

- Senior level experience in a consumer-facing Product role. Ideally, you've managed a huge component of a particular business line at your current or previous company, or a team of PMs
- Experience building a product roadmap and working with cross-functional stakeholders to deliver measurable impact
- Analytical experience, specifically in using Looker or other BI tools to drill down on insights and create solutions on data-driven hypotheses
- Experimentation and A/B testing experience in guiding rapid iterative product development
- Analyze, quantify, and articulate trade-offs of product roadmap features
- Familiarity with FinTech products and concepts
- Strong verbal communication and presentation skills to senior leaders and project partners
- Deep attention to detail; desire to collaborate on new processes for efficiency
- Bias toward data-driven decision making
- Demonstrated ability to work independently and deliver core responsibilities against deadlines
- Ability to quickly build consensus
- Experience in Payments or Consumer Financial Services is a plus
- Experience in ML or Data Science is a plus

Hiring organization

Venmo

Venmo is working to build a payment experience that's simple, delightful, and connected. Since our founding in 2009, we've quickly grown from an idea hatched by two college roommates who wanted a better way to pay each other back to the go-to digital wallet that's known and loved by millions. What started off as a simple SMS platform to send and receive money has evolved into a social payments app allowing people to pay, split and share their experiences.
